

FRECKLE COLLECTOR

A freckle collector! A FRECKLE collector!

I see by your skin you're a freckle collector!

'Can't tell what you're thinking...

'Can't tell where you've been...

but your passion for freckles is plain as your skin.

You say you don't like them? They don't make you grin?

Oh, come now, my dear one, you'd best think again, for a freckle trail's MAGIC wherever it goes...

across your shoulders or over your nose...

down your forearms... around your knees freckles are free to roam as they please.

But, oh, when they find that place they like best...

better than any and all the rest,

they stake their claims; they mark their spots with various shades in the shape of dots.

Then we can all tell.

And we should all care

that something quite special

and loved

is right

there
